

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

ATTORNEY-GENERAL

OF THE

UNITED STATES

FOR

THE YEAR 1890.

WASHINGTON:
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
1890.

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,
Washington, D. C., December 1, 1890.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled:

Complying with the law, I respectfully submit the following report of the business of the Department of Justice during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, with statistics of crime against the United States and a statement of the appropriations under the control of the Attorney-General.

BUSINESS OF THE SUPREME COURT.

The docket of the Supreme Court of the United States at the close of the last term, as compared with the condition at the close of the term next preceding, shows an increase of 32 cases undisposed of, appellate and original.

At the close of the October term, 1888, there remained undisposed of on the appellate docket 1,146 cases, and on the original 2 cases. The number of cases docketed at the October term, 1889, was 500, of which 489 were on the appellate and 11 on the original docket, making the total number of cases on the docket at that term 1,648, of which 1,635 were on the appellate and 13 on the original docket. Of this number 468 were disposed of, and of these, 458 were on the appellate and 10 on the original docket.

The actual number of cases considered by the court was 354, of which 209 were argued orally, and 145 submitted on printed arguments.

Of the 458 appellate cases disposed of 202 were affirmed, 101 reversed, 81 dismissed, 72 settled by the parties and dismissed, and in 2 cases questions certified to the court were answered.

The number of cases decided at this term (October term, 1889), in which the United States was concerned, was 45, of which 27 were decided in favor of and 18 against the United States, and in 2 criminal cases questions certified were answered,

IV

REPORT OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

Of those in which the United States appealed, 12 were affirmed and 9 reversed. Ten of the cases were appeals from the Court of Claims, in 7 of which the judgment was affirmed and in 3 reversed. Besides the cases in which the United States was concerned, that were decided, there were 8 others dismissed by the court, and of these 7 were dismissed at the instance of the United States and 1 by stipulation.

Thus the total number of cases disposed of at the October term, 1889, in which the United States was interested, was 53.

The above does not include 3 cases on the original docket in which the United States was interested.

BUSINESS OF THE COURT OF CLAIMS.

Since the last report 158 suits, claiming upward of $17,000,000, have been brought under the ordinary jurisdiction of the court.

The total number of such cases now pending is 1,320, claiming upward of $25,000,000.

Under the act of March 3, 1883, known as the Bowman act, there have been transmitted to the court to date 8,096 cases. The amount claimed can not be stated, but involves a very large sum.

During the last term 144 cases, claiming about $998,259.82, were acted on by the court and have been or will be reported to Congress. Of this number, 81 cases, claiming $345,096.83, were dismissed.

In 10 cases, claiming $32,666.20, findings favorable to the defendant were filed by the court; and in 53 cases, claiming $619,596.79, findings favorable to claimants were filed for $103,444.29.

There are now pending 7,136 cases, involving, so far as can be ascertained from petitions and other papers received, upward of $400,000,000.

Under the same act there have been transmitted by heads of Departments to date 38 cases.

Two of these cases, claiming $32,991.29, were acted on by the court during the term, and the findings and opinion of the court (adverse to claimants) were certified to the Department transmitting the claim.

There are now pending 6 cases in which the court is asked to pass upon certain disputed questions involving large amounts.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES.

There were brought to trial 140 cases, claiming $1,891,824.32. In 16 of these, claiming $897,217.40, judgment was for defendant.

In 124 cases, claiming $994,606.82, judgment was for claimants for $209,673.20.

Three cases, claiming $55,481.44, were dismissed on defendant's motion; and one case, claiming $1,208.40, was dismissed on claimant's motion.

REPORT OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

V

CLAIMS AGAINST THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Of these, there were settled by negotiation between the Department of Justice and the claimants 5 suits, claiming $851,483.91, and judgment was rendered in them in favor of claimants for $45,516.01.

There are now pending 25 cases, claiming upward of $543,960.

Several cases involving large amounts have been argued and submitted during the year, but no judgment has yet been rendered.

The official term of the Court of Claims extends one year from the first Monday of each December.

This report necessarily does not show the work performed by the court during the entire term.

FRENCH SPOILIATION CASES.

Five thousand five hundred and sixty-nine petitions, representing 2,399 vessels and claiming about $42,000,000, have been filed in the Court of Claims under the act of January 20, 1885, commonly known as the French spoliation act.

Before the date of my last report the court had decided favorably to the claimants 293 cases, and in them had allowed $2,190,560.15, and had rejected 51 petitions; in most of which 51 cases motions for rehearing are now pending. The claimants had selected from the 5,569 petitions 155 which were regarded as hopeless, and had dismissed them.

Since and including the date of my last report, the court has decided 24 cases, each petition being treated as a case. Of these, 22 were decided favorably to the claimants, the amounts allowed aggregating $102,803.97, and 2 were decided adversely to the claimants. During this same time, 11 other cases, which had been at previous dates decided in favor of the claimants, were reported to Congress, with amounts aggregating $79,991.84, and 16, which had been decided adversely to the claimants, were likewise reported. The claimants having dismissed 2 cases during the period in question, the total number acted upon is 53.

During the same time there have been argued and submitted to the court 29 cases, which, with others previously submitted, now await its decision.

There are on the trial docket for the present term 360 cases. Besides these, there are awaiting trial 97 cases, which, having been submitted to the court, were not decided, but remanded for further proceedings.

PROCEEDINGS UNDER THE ACT GIVING CIRCUIT AND DISTRICT COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES CONCURRENT JURISDICTION WITH THE COURT OF CLAIMS.

Under the provisions of the act of March 3, 1887 (chapter 359, Statutes at Large, vol. 24, page 511), copies of petitions in suits for the settlement of claims in the circuit and district courts of the United States have been received at this Department in 106 cases, involving, so far as can be ascertained, claims against the Government amounting to $46,968. These suits were brought between October 22, 1889, and October 24, 1890.

The whole number of cases in circuit and district courts from the passage of the act to October 24, 1890, is 903, which are classified as follows:

For fees of clerks of United States courts.....	24
For fees of United States commissioners.....	66
For fees of United States marshals	9
For fees of United States attorneys	5
For fees of supervisors of elections and deputy marshals.....	704
For fees of chief supervisor of elections.....	1
Miscellaneous.....	94
Total	903

Since my last annual report, I have certified to Congress, under the provisions of the act above mentioned, judgments against the United States in 150 cases; in these cases the amount of the judgments was $42,267.82, as shown by the transcripts of the records sent to this Department. Appropriations were made at the last session of Congress for the payment of these judgments, and also for the payment of judgments reported by my predecessor, to the amount of $16,304.88.

In my last annual report I said that "many of the cases brought under this jurisdiction are class cases, so that the determination by the court of final resort disposes of a large number at one time." This is true only with reference to cases determined by the Supreme Court of the United States. Such has been found to be the diversity of opinion among the judges of the circuit and district courts that the decision in one court does not form the basis of the judgment in another. In the list of judgments reported by me to Congress, as above, are to be found a large number of cases disposed of in accordance with the opinions of the Supreme Court of the United States.

EXHIBITS ACCOMPANYING THIS REPORT.

Exhibit A is a statement of the civil suits, to which the United States was a party, terminated in the circuit and district courts of the United States during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, and of such suits pending in said courts July 1, 1890, as reported by the district attorneys.

During the last fiscal year 1,768 civil suits were terminated. In 768 of these judgments were for the United States; in 339 against the United States; and 621 were either dismissed or discontinued; 21 were appealed from the district to the circuit court, and 19 from the circuit to the Supreme Court. Many of the civil suits reported dismissed or discontinued were settled by authority of the Treasury Department, and discontinued under its direction. There were pending July 1, 1890, 2,927 civil suits to which the United States was a party.

Exhibit B is a statement of the criminal prosecutions terminated in the circuit and district courts of the United States during the last fiscal year and of such prosecutions pending July 1, 1890.

There were terminated during the last year 16,016 criminal prosecutions; 187 of these were prosecutions under the customs laws, in which there were 100 convictions, 20 acquittals, and 67 were entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed; 6,720 under the internal-revenue laws, in which there were 4,150 convictions, 1,052 acquittals, and 1,518 were entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed; 883 under post-office laws, in which there were 471 convictions, 169 acquittals, and 243 entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed; 306 under election laws, in which there were 90 convictions, 108 acquittals, and 108 entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed; 3 under the civil-rights act, in which there were 2 convictions and 1 acquittal; 651 under intercourse acts, in which there were 530 convictions, 50 acquittals, and 71 entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed; 246 under the pension laws, in which there were 129 convictions, 32 acquittals, and 85 entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed; 55 for embezzlement, in which there were 32 convictions, and 23 entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed; 2 under the interstate-commerce law, in which there was 1 conviction, and 1 entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed; 72 under the naturalization laws, in which there were 2 convictions, 17 acquittals, and 53 entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed; 6,891 miscellaneous prosecutions, in which there were 4,407 convictions, 1,406 acquittals, 1,078 entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed.

In many of the prosecutions under the internal-revenue laws entered nol. pros., discontinued, or quashed, a compromise and settlement were made in the Internal Revenue Bureau of the Treasury Department.

There were pending July 1, 1890, 8,683 criminal prosecutions, viz, 68 for violation of customs laws, 4,075 for violation of internal-revenue laws, 534 for violation of post-office laws, 336 for violation of election laws, 61 under naturalization laws, 269 under the intercourse laws, 162 under the pension laws, 7 under the civil-rights acts, 57 for embezzlement, and 3,114 miscellaneous prosecutions.

Exhibit C shows the amount arising and realized from civil suits to which the United States was a party, and from criminal prosecutions in the circuit and district courts of the United States during the last fiscal year.

The aggregate amount of the judgments rendered in favor of the United States in civil suits during the last year was $272,243.01, and the amount actually collected on these judgments was $42,391.83, while $27,461.15 was obtained during the year on judgments rendered in former years for the United States, and $65,232.87 was otherwise realized in civil suits.

The aggregate amount of fines, forfeitures, and penalties imposed during the year in criminal prosecutions was $511,863.84, and the amount of these fines, forfeitures, and penalties collected during the year was $87,629.30, while $7,199.04 was realized on fines, forfeitures, and penalties imposed in former years.

Exhibit D is a statement of civil suits to which the United States was not a party, commenced and terminated in the circuit and district courts of the United States during the last fiscal year, and of such suits pending July 1, 1890, 12,247 were commenced during the year, of which 1,921 were cases in admiralty and 10,326 were other miscellaneous suits.

Judgments for plaintiffs in these cases were as follows: Six hundred and seventy-three in admiralty, amounting to $1,197,833.99, and 2,584 in other suits, amounting to $81,242,110.58.

Judgments for defendants were 92 in admiralty, amounting to $27,365.92, and 782 in other suits, amounting to $399,461.13; 746 in admiralty were either dismissed or discontinued, as were also 3,623 other suits; 42,584 civil suits, to which the United States was not a party, were pending in the circuit and district courts of the United States

July 1, 1890, viz, 3,989 in admiralty and 38,595 other miscellaneous suits.

Exhibit E is a general statement of all appropriations placed under the Department of Justice which were available and those from which payments were made during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890.

Exhibit F 1 is a statement of the court expenses incurred in the fiscal year 1888 and paid in the fiscal year 1890.

Exhibit F 2 is a statement of the court expenses incurred in the fiscal year 1889 and paid in the fiscal year 1890.

Exhibit F 3 is a statement of the court expenses incurred and paid in the fiscal year 1890, viz:

To United States marshals	$586,867.00
To attorneys.....	194,403.57
To assistant attorneys	102,682.02
To clerks	138,409.62
To jurors	680,505.00
To witnesses.....	1,129,312.29
To commissioners.....	99,971.74
To prisoners	366,570.67

Exhibit N is the annual report of the warden of the United States jail in the District of Columbia.

Exhibit O is a report of the Architect of the Capitol upon the improvements and repairs to the court house, District of Columbia, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890.

Exhibit P is a report of the clerk of pardons of the Department of Justice, showing the names of the persons convicted in the United States courts who were pardoned during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, the districts in which they were tried, the terms of court at which they were convicted, their offenses, sentences, dates of pardon, and the principal reasons for recommending executive clemency.

Exhibit Q is a report of the attorney of the United States for the district of Utah upon the Mormon Church litigation.

UNITED STATES PRISONERS.

The usual examinations of the institutions where United States prisoners are confined have been made from time to time during the year, and careful attention paid by the Department's agents to the treatment of the Government prisoners.

UNITED STATES PRISONS.

The reasons presented in my last annual report in favor of Government penal institutions are as urgent to-day, and I earnestly recommend that the bill which has already passed the House of Representatives may become a law. Your attention is invited to the following from my report of last year:

With each year the need of Government penal institutions becomes more apparent. In the present situation of affairs the Department is compelled to rely upon the several State institutions for the care and maintenance of Government convicts.

Owing to the agitation of the labor question, a number of States have passed laws prohibiting the employment of prisoners on contract labor. Congress on February 23, 1887, passed an act prohibiting the employment of United States prisoners on contract labor. The result has been that many institutions throughout the country have been compelled to change their system of labor, and as a result have not been self-supporting. This, together with the fact that United States prisoners can no longer be employed on contract labor, has obliged the penitentiary authorities to charge the Government stated per diems for subsistence of United States prisoners, whereas heretofore they were able to keep them without charge, the extra expense being but small, and the labor of the prisoners more than compensating for the cost.

Again, the legislatures in several States have enacted laws to the effect that no prisoners convicted outside the State can be received in the several penal institutions of the State. In many of the districts of the United States there is no penitentiary suitable for the confinement of Government convicts, and the Attorney-General is compelled to make arrangements for their incarceration in prisons situated in other States and Territories. At the present time there is not a single institution in the country which will receive United States prisoners free of cost. The number of penitentiaries which will receive United States prisoners from outside the State at all is becoming limited, and in some cases the transfer of Government convicts from one penitentiary to another becomes necessary in view of the vacillating enactments of the legislatures in the several States. Should all the States in which suitable penitentiaries are located enact laws excluding United States prisoners, the Government will be compelled to hire quarters for its criminals, or to designate institutions which are in no way proper places for their confinement.

PRISON BUREAU.

I again urge the necessity for the establishment of a prison bureau in the Department of Justice, and I hope that the bill now before Congress may at the next session become a law. The following appears in my last report:

It is urged with much force that a prison bureau should be established in the Department of Justice, where could be gathered, collated, and reported in a permanent form the criminal statistics of the United States. It is impossible at the present time to find any office or bureau where information concerning crime and criminals in this country can be obtained. The criminal statistics of the United States can not be compared with those of other nations. The advantages of such a bureau to the Government, State, county, and municipal officers and the public generally would be invaluable. This prison bureau could be made the central office of the Bertillon system of measurements for the identification of criminals. It is believed the several States and Territories would co-operate and heartily indorse such a plan, and it would undoubtedly meet with the favor of the wardens and superintendents of the several penitentiaries.

STATISTICS.

During the year ending June 30, 1890, there were received in the different penitentiaries, reformatories, etc., throughout the United States, 1,011 prisoners. The total number in custody during the year was 2,251. There were discharged during the year 947, and on the 30th day of June, 1890, there were 1,304 still in confinement. Of the 947 discharged, there were 864 by expiration of sentences, 32 died, 36 were pardoned, 11 released by writ of habeas corpus, and 4 transferred to the insane asylum.

Of the 1011 prisoners received during the year 109 were committed for violation of the revenue laws, 138 for counterfeiting, 127 for violation of the postal laws, and 637 for other offenses.

819 were born in the United States, and 192 were foreign born.

983 were male, and 28 were females.

522 claimed to be temperate, and 489 admitted themselves to be intemperate.

There were 754 whites, 211 blacks, and 46 Indians.

757 could read and write, 69 could read only, and 185 could neither read nor write.

449 were married, and 562 were single.

854 were in prison for the first time, and 157 had heretofore served sentence.

111 were under twenty years of age when admitted, 391 between twenty and thirty years of age, 241 between thirty and forty, 139 between forty and fifty, and 129 over fifty years of age.

Of the 1,304 prisoners in confinement on the 30th day of June, 1890, 40 were idle, 41 disabled or sick, 86 were working "on contract," 409 on "piece price," 292 on "State account," and 436 on prison duties.

Attached to my report (Exhibit L) is a detailed statement giving the names of the penitentiaries used by the Government during the past year, their locations, the names of the wardens, districts from which United States prisoners have been received during the past year and detailed statistics of each institution, such as are referred to in the above general summary.

JAILS.

At several places where United States courts are held, the number of persons arrested for violations of the United States laws and held awaiting trial, or serving short sentences, is very great, and the accommodations of the county jails are oftentimes meager. This necessitates the crowding of Government prisoners into institutions entirely too small. There is an urgent necessity for the building of a United States jail at Atlanta, Ga., one at Paris, Tex., and one at Louisville, Ky., and at other points where the average of United States prisoners of this character in number is one hundred or more. This matter should receive attention.

The best arrangements that can be made are effected by the Department, but it is not always possible to secure such accommodations as are needed.

JAIL, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The suggestions, made in my last annual report as to the District jail, I think, merit attention. These suggestions urged the building of a separate wing for female prisoners, the construction of a wall about the premises, the increase of the salary of the warden from $1,800 to $2,500, and putting the control and responsibility for the entire management on the Attorney-General.

The report of the warden is made a part of this report as Exhibit N.

He asks that provision be made for overhauling the steam-heating apparatus, for the building of a new barn, and some new washing machines.

I hope his requests will have early attention.

REFORM SCHOOL, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The Reform school of the District of Columbia has had a prosperous year. The health of the inmates has been generally good, and order and good conduct have characterized the school life.

The average number of pupils has been 185 against 170 during the preceding year; and while the comforts have been no less the expenses have not increased. The purpose of the school would be much advanced if facilities for instruction and practice in a greater variety of handicraft were furnished.

There is no reason why the inmates should not make all their own shoes, clothing—in short, do all the work of every kind needed about the premises. In similar schools, in some of the States, the boys make brick and lay them in walls, do all the carpenter and mason work, and all other work necessary in the erection of needed buildings. Trained thus to work, they are in a condition to earn their livelihood when discharged. No other result of their discipline would be, in my judgment, so valuable as this.

The report of the Board of Trustees is attached, marked "Exhibit M."

REPORT OF THE SOLICITOR OF THE TREASURY.

The report of the Solicitor of the Treasury (Exhibit I) is filed herewith, giving in detail the operations of that Bureau.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS.

In some parts of the country the lawlessness to which attention was called in the last annual report of this Department continues. The enforcement of the internal revenue laws and of the United States election laws is particularly resisted; and officers of the internal revenue, as well as United States marshals, are frequently met with violence, and are occasionally the victims of assassination at the hands of those guilty of violating these and other laws, and their friends. Several assassinations of officers and witnesses, with the purpose of impeding the execution of the laws and orders of the United States courts, have occurred during the past year. Within the last ten days, a deputy marshal, attempting to serve a warrant for the arrest of a man for violation of the postal laws, was shot and instantly killed by the man sought to be arrested; and, on a preliminary examination before a magistrate of the State, the prisoner was promptly discharged.

It is certainly an anomaly in Government, that those who have committed murders for the purpose of stopping prosecution in the Federal courts should not only not be punished, but not even be put upon trial, although, in at least two cases in one district during 1890, well known. Yet such is the fact. It is needless to say that the Federal courts have no adequate jurisdiction of these offenses.

Section 5509 of the Revised Statutes provides that if any person attempts, by intimidation, threats, etc., to prevent any citizen from exercising the right of suffrage, and in so doing commits a felony, or if two or more persons conspire to debar any person from the enjoyment of any of his civil rights, and in so doing commit a felony, such felony shall be punished according to the laws of the State wherein the same is committed.

If section 5509 were so broadened as to make any felony, committed while in the act of violating any statute of the United States, triable in the United States courts, and punishable according to the laws of the State wherein the same is committed, it would greatly help in the administration of justice.

So long as persons who kill officers, witnesses, or jurors, for the purpose of impeding the administration of justice, can only be tried and punished in a Federal court as for a minor offense, the administration of the United States laws, and the laws themselves, in many districts, will have little respect.

The Supreme Court has recently decided that there is a "peace of the United States." Is it not the duty of Congress to provide by law for the preservation of this "peace" everywhere, and at all times?

Notwithstanding the difficulties of the situation, the officers of this Department have been diligent in executing the laws. In prosecutions for violations of the election laws, in several districts, convictions and pleas of guilty have been obtained in a large number of cases. As an illustration, however, of the difficulties met in such prosecutions, the district attorney for one district reports that, in a certain county, a number of whose citizens were convicted of violations of the election laws, the county court ordered all fines and costs assessed against them in the United States court to be paid out of the county treasury; and that, in another county, a number of whose citizens were in like manner convicted, or had pleaded guilty to indictments for such offenses in the United States court, $1,300 was actually paid out of the county treasury upon such fines and costs in one day. These facts speak for themselves.

It has been known for years that in certain districts a very large number of naturalization certificates have been issued in violation of law, so that a great many persons have been voting without right. A large number of suits have been brought to set aside such fraudulent naturalizations, and many final decrees canceling the same have been rendered in the United States circuit courts. It is believed that by these suits much may be done to purify the ballot-box in those localities,

POTOMAC FLATS.

The litigation to settle the title of the United States to the premises known as the Potomac Flats, along the water front of Washington City, has progressed favorably during the past year. The evidence in regard to most of the claims is completed, and the rest nearly so. It is hoped that the case may be ready for final hearing at the present term of the court.

THE BELL TELEPHONE CASE.

As foreshadowed in the last report of the Attorney-General, the taking of evidence in the case of The United States vs. The American Bell Telephone Company and Alexander Graham Bell was commenced very shortly after that report was made, and has been prosecuted diligently ever since. The evidence on behalf of the Government, has not, as yet, been completed. The defendants declined to agree, and the court declines to order that the testimony be taken by a stenographer. The cross-examination of the Government witnesses is greatly protracted, with the probable effect of delaying the progress of the case so that no decree can be reached before the expiration of the defendants' patent. Seventy days have been occupied by the defense in the cross-examination of one witness, and the cross-examination is still going on at the date of this writing. The case will be pushed as rapidly as possible under the circumstances.

MORMON CHURCH LITIGATION.

I submit herewith (Exhibit Q) a report of the United States attorney for Utah, giving somewhat in detail the history and present condition of the litigation, commenced under the act of March 3, 1887, with reference to the property of the Mormon Church and Perpetual Emigration Fund Company.

It is, of course, well known that the decree of the supreme court of Utah, in favor of the Government, was affirmed at the last session of the Supreme Court, but the opinion is withheld for the consideration of the appellants, for a modification of the de-

CHINESE EXCLUSION ACT.

Vigilant efforts have been made to enforce the legislation excluding Chinese immigration. One of the most common devices for getting these people into the country was to land them either in Mexico or in the Dominion of Canada, and permit them to come across our southern or northern border into the United States. By the co-operation of the officers of the Treasury Department and the Department of Justice, however, it is believed that most attempts of this kind have been frustrated, as have the attempts to bring them directly through the ports of the United States upon the Pacific.

TITLE TO GREER COUNTY.

The twenty-fifth section of the act providing for a temporary government for the Territory of Oklahoma requires the Attorney-General to commence, in the name of and on behalf of the United States, and prosecute to final determination, a proper suit in equity in the Supreme Court of the United States against the State of Texas, in order that the rightful title to the country known as Greer County, Texas, may be finally determined. In pursuance of this requirement a bill in equity has been prepared and filed in the Supreme Court for the purpose indicated, and is now there pending.

GOVERNMENT SUITS TO ADVANCE PRIVATE INTERESTS.

A number of applications have been made for the commencement of suits in the name of the Government to set aside patents long ago issued, or otherwise to reclaim lands, upon the assertion that such patents were issued or said lands passed from the Government erroneously, either through fraud or mistake, or both combined. In a number of instances these requests have been accompanied by an offer to give a bond indemnifying the Government against costs or expense in prosecuting such suits. A large number of suits of this kind have been commenced by the Government in past years, the effect of which was to unsettle very old titles, such bond of indemnity having been accepted from the persons interested in the prosecution of such suits. It has seemed to me that the tendency of such a practice was altogether mischievous; that the Government ought not to bring any suit to unsettle a title, except in cases where it had an interest sufficient to justify such a suit, or where, by reason of the action of its officers, it was under a legal or moral obligation to act in behalf of those who had been misled to their hurt by its conduct; and in no case ought the Government to bring such a suit where its interest or obligation was not sufficient to demand that the litigation be undertaken and prosecuted at its own expense and risk. Accordingly the rule of the Department is to de- to bring such suits.

SUITS BROUGHT IN COMPLIANCE WITH SPECIFIC DIRECTIONS AND ACTS OF CONGRESS.

Under the act of August 7, 1888 (25 Stats. at Large, 382), requiring all telegraph lines subsidized by the Government, by and through their own respective corporate officers and employes, to maintain and operate for railroad, governmental, commercial, and all other purposes, such telegraph lines, and requiring the Attorney-General, by proper proceedings, to prevent any unlawful interference with the rights and equities of the United States in relation to such telegraph lines, five suits have been commenced as follows:

(1) One suit in the circuit court of the United States for the district of Nebraska against the Union Pacific Railroad Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company. In this suit the evidence is being taken.

(2) One suit against the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the Western Union Telegraph Company, and the Northwestern Telegraph Company in the circuit court for the district of Minnesota.

(3) One suit against the Sioux City and Pacific Railroad Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company in the northern district of Iowa.

(4) A suit against the Central Pacific Railroad Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company in the circuit court for the northern district of California.

(5) A suit against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company in the circuit court for the northern district of California.

(6) In pursuance of the act of March 2, 1889 (25 Statutes at Large, page 850), suits were commenced in the circuit court of the United States for the district of Oregon for the forfeiture of the wagon road land grants referred to in said act. These cases were vigorously prosecuted to a final hearing, and decrees rendered against the Government dismissing the bills. From these decrees appeals have been taken to the Supreme Court, where the cases are now pending.

(7) A like result has been reached in the suit commenced by the Government against the parties claiming land patented to the State of Iowa for the use of the Des Moines River Navigation Company. From the final decree in that case an appeal has been taken by the Government to the Supreme Court, and the case is now there pending.

(8) The suit (25 Statutes, 768) for the settlement of the titles to lands claimed by and under the Black Bob Band of Shawnee Indians, in Kansas, has been commenced, and is being diligently prosecuted. The answer, the preparation of which involved a vast amount of labor and research, has been filed, and the taking of testimony will soon commence. This, also, will require much time and labor.

AMENDMENTS TO THE LAWS.

In my last annual report a number of recommendations for amendments to the laws were made. Some of them were favorably acted upon by Congress, and the amendments made; others I take the liberty now of repeating.

REORGANIZATION OF THE JUDICIARY.

For several years past, the Attorney-General, in his annual report, has called attention to the necessity of legislation for the relief of the courts, and especially the Supreme Court. It is a matter of congratulation that, during the last session of Congress, each House passed a comprehensive bill for this purpose, which bills have reached a committee of conference. It is earnestly hoped that this legislation, so far advanced, will not now be permitted to fail, but that in a spirit of conciliation differences will be reconciled, and this much-needed legislation will be completed.

In this connection I beg to suggest that some special legislation will be necessary for the relief of the circuit courts, at least in the eighth and ninth circuits, whose territory is so vast, and whose business is constantly increasing.

DEGREES OF MURDER.

I beg also to renew the suggestion made in the last report urging an amendment dividing the crime of murder into different degrees, and grading the punishment accordingly.

RELATION OF JUDICIAL DISTRICTS.

Also to the recommendation in that report touching the rule laid down in some of the decisions, that the United States courts in different districts are to be treated as foreign jurisdictions, so that a receiver appointed in one district bringing a suit in another district must first be reappointed in the district where he wishes to bring such suit. It seems to me clear that the different judicial districts in the United States logically bear the same relations to each other, as the different counties and judicial districts in a State, and that there ought to be legislation which would clearly establish this relation.

DISPUTED CLAIMS FOR MONEY DUE FROM THE GOVERNMENT.

In my last report I made certain suggestions upon this subject and have seen no reason to change them. These suggestions were as follows:

Many questions are presented for opinions by the various Departments which arise out of disputes in regard to the right of various claimants to receive money admitted to be due from the Government or in the hands of its officers for distribution. These questions are often most difficult to determine; so difficult that nothing less than judicial investigation can arrive at a satisfactory conclusion in the premises. I suggest, as a remedy, that in such cases the Attorney-General be authorized, according to the general practice of equity, to file a bill of interpleader in the supreme court of the District of Columbia making the different claimants parties defendant, pay the money into court, have the Government discharged, and leave the parties to settle their controversies among themselves.

ABUSES IN CASE AND FEE MAKING.

In the enforcement of the laws for the protection of timber upon the public lands, it has been found that great numbers of cases have in the past been commenced before United States commissioners against ax-men or day laborers, while those primarily responsible, and who are making large profits by the cutting and selling of such timber, have been permitted to escape. In some districts hundreds of prosecutions have been commenced against such laborers, examinations had before commissioners, at great expense to the Government, the cases then sent to the court, pleas of guilty entered, and sentences suspended; the only effect being that the Government was compelled to pay large costs to witnesses and court officers. Similar practices have also largely prevailed in internal-revenue cases. These practices have met with no favor at the hands of the Department. On the contrary, district attorneys and marshals have been admonished that they must cease; that prosecutions for timber trespasses ought to be commenced primarily against the operators who are the prime movers in raids upon the public lands; and that, in any event, an offense which is sufficiently important to demand an arrest, an indictment, and a trial is of sufficient importance to demand punishment; and that, so far as their powers extend, every effort must be used to the end that punishment shall follow conviction. So great were these abuses that the attention of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives was called to the same, and has resulted in an investigation by a subcommittee of the House, which has already, as I think, resulted in a great improvement in this part of the public service. Abuses of this character are, however, measureably at least, incident to the system which makes the emoluments of commissioners, attorneys, clerks, and marshals dependent upon the amount of business they can find, and they call for the most careful consideration and vigorous treatment at the hands of Congress.

COURTS OF CRIMINAL JURISDICTION FOR THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

In my last report attention was called to the great expense of the courts having jurisdiction of felonies in the Indian Territory. I again call attention to what was there said, and especially emphasize the same with reference to the court at Paris, Tex. The necessity for a modification of the present state of things there is twofold. It is a grievous hardship that men charged with crime, and the witnesses in support of or against such charges, shall be required to travel oftentimes many hundred miles, in order to reach the tribunal where the trial of such charges is to be had.

In the second place, the expense to the Government of maintaining such a system is simply enormous; so great, indeed, that it can not be met out of the ordinary appropriations for such purposes, without using moneys necessary to conduct the ordinary business of other United States courts.

A long step toward a better state of things would be taken if the court in the Indian Territory were given full jurisdiction of felonies. My information, I think, justifies the assertion, that the objection that good juries can not be had in that court is without foundation.

Another evil closely related to the same subject-matter is the practice which in the past has prevailed in some districts, of making arrests and conveying prisoners long distances and at great expense, without sufficient reason, for examination or bail, instead of taking them before the nearest commissioner. An amendment requiring prisoners to be taken before the nearest commissioner for examination or bail, unless for special reasons and on cause shown, would be a great improvement.

CLERKS' FEES IN NATURALIZATION CASES.

In the naturalization of aliens, under title 30 of the Revised Statutes certain duties are imposed on the clerks of the Federal courts. It has always been the ruling of this Department, as well as of the Treasury Department, that for the fees received for services under said title the clerks were bound to account in their emolument returns, and, as a rule, such fees have been so accounted for. In one district, however, a different practice has prevailed for many years. The clerks have not only performed the duties imposed upon them by the statutes, but seem to have been made by the court quasi referees for the hearing of the cases; have thereupon required the payment by the applicant for naturalization of a lump sum as compensation for such services; and they refuse to account to the Government for the fees so received.

For the purpose of recovering these fees, earned in the past, a suit was some years ago brought by the United States against one Hill, clerk of the district court for the district in question, with the result that it was held in the circuit court that such fees could not be recovered, and this decision was affirmed in the Supreme Court, upon the ground that the custom for the clerks to receive such fees, and not account for them, had been one of long standing, and had been repeatedly sanctioned by the judges in the approval of the accounts of those officers, and that it was, therefore, inequitable to require that such payment should be made. (United States v. Hill, 120 U. S. Reports, page 169.) The result is that these officers in other districts are now questioning their obligation to account for such fees, and certainly the rule ought to be uniform in all districts. Congress alone can make it so.

In this connection I call attention also to the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of the United States v. Jones (134 U. S. Reports, page 483), wherein it is decided—

That the approval of a commissioner's account by a circuit court of the United States is prima facie evidence of its correctness, and, in the absence of clear and unequivocal proof of mistake on the part of the court, should be conclusive.

This decision is equally applicable to the accounts of other court officers.

The effect of this decision is to divide the responsibility for the approval of such accounts. Heretofore it has been supposed that under the last clause of section 1 of the Act of February 29, 1875 (18 Statutes at Large, page 333), the authority of the accounting officers of the Treasury to allow or disallow the accounts of such officer was to be exercised uncontrolled by the action of the courts. The language of that clause is as follows:

Nothing contained in this act shall be deemed in any wise to diminish or affect the right of revision of the accounts to which this act applies by the accounting officers of the Treasury as exercised under the laws now in force.

As will be seen, however, by the above decision, in the absence of "clear and unequivocal proof of mistake" on the part of the court in allowing the account, its allowance is conclusive. Now, it is matter of common information that, as a rule, the courts do not make a careful and searching examination into such accounts. But the practice has been to pass them pro forma, relying on the accounting officers in Washington to carefully revise and allow or disallow the same. If no change is made, the result will be the allowance of accounts without any careful examination of evidence anywhere. This duty ought not to be divided. Either the accounting officers or the courts ought to be charged with the sole responsibility in the premises.

Another plain reason why attention to this subject is needed is in the fact that, under an act giving the circuit courts jurisdiction of suits to collect such claims, it results that the court first passes upon the account ex parte, and if the accounting officers of the Treasury do not concur in passing the account the same judge may again be called upon to pass upon the account in a suit. It might be very embarrassing to a judge to be called upon to disallow in a suit what he had recently allowed ex parte.

SALARY OF ASSISTANT ATTORNEY-GENERAL POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

The duties of the Assistant Attorney-General for the Post-Office Department are exacting and responsible. With the growth of that Department these duties become yearly more numerous and arduous. There would seem to be no good reason why this officer should not be placed, so far as salary is concerned, upon an equality with the other Assistant Attorneys-General, and I recommend that this be done.

PAY OF ASSISTANT ATTORNEYS IN COURT OF CLAIMS.

I beg again to call the attention of Congress to the inequality and inadequacy of the pay of assistant attorneys in this Department. There are in the Department, in charge of very important litigation in the Court of Claims, six assistant attorneys. Of these, two receive salaries of $3,000 each; three receive salaries of $2,500 each, and one $2,000. Each of these attorneys is charged with duties and responsibilities of the same character, of equal importance, and I know of no reason why they should not receive the same pay. The highest salary received is certainly too low for the services rendered by each one.

The propriety of this recommendation is apparent, when the business of the Court of Claims is considered. Probably no court in the world has to-day cases involving the variety and aggregate magnitude of the claims there pending.

The aggregate number of suits now pending is about 14,000, without regarding the great number of suits involving many millions of dollars in special jurisdictions and the French spoliation claims. The war claims alone now pending are about 8,000 in number, and estimated upon the basis of amounts claimed in cases tried earlier in their history, will aggregate at least $400,000,000. These claims are now very carefully examined, the evidence, largely to be found in the South and in the Confederate archives, is very carefully searched out and rigidly scrutinized, with the result that comparatively few of these cases end in judgments against the Government.

During the past year, under the general jurisdiction of the court, claims amounting to almost $2,000,000 have been disposed of. In these cases the amount recovered has been about $210,000. Claims against the District of Columbia have been adjusted by the Department to the extent of $850,000, resulting in judgments of only about $45,000. Of the war claims tried, the amount claimed was nearly $1,000,000, and in these cases findings have been made for claimants only for $103,000.

In departmental cases the findings have been in each case adverse to the claimants.

In attending to this vast business these assistant attorneys have been most zealous and untiring, and have given to the Government very valuable service.

I urgently recommend that the salaries of these officers be equalized upon a basis more nearly commensurate with the services performed.

Respectfully submitted.

W. H. H. MILLER,
Attorney-General.

EXHIBIT I.—Report of the Solicitor of the Treasury.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,
OFFICE OF THE SOLICITOR OF THE TREASURY,
Washington, D. C., November 13, 1890.

I have the honor to transmit herewith seven tabular statements, giving the amounts, character, and results of the litigation under direction for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, shown by the entries of this office.

These tables embrace respectively—

Suits on transcripts of accounts of defaulting public officers, excluding those of the Post-Office Department adjusted by the accountants of the Treasury Department.

Post-office suits, embracing those against officers of the Post-Office Department, and cases of fines, penalties, and forfeitures for violation of postal laws.

Suits on custom-house bonds.

Suits for the recovery of fines, penalties, and forfeitures under customs-revenue and navigation laws.

Suits against collectors of customs and other officers or agents of the Government, excepting internal revenue officers, for refund of duties not done in line of their official duty.

Suits in which the United States is a party or is interested, and embraced in the other classes.

A general summary or abstract of all the other tables.

On examination of the tables will show that the whole number of suits commenced within the year was 5,973, of which 24 were of class 1, for the recovery of $273,905.38; 290 were of class 2, for the recovery of $71.06; 40 were of class 3, for the recovery of $13,742.34; 152 were of class 4, for the recovery of $41,621.46; 2,912 were of class 5; 2,555 were of class 6, for the recovery of $1,025,112.64, making a total sued and reported, of $1,401,152.88.

The whole number of suits brought 1,790 were decided in favor of the United States, 35 were adversely decided, 411 were settled and dismissed; in 13 penalties were remitted by the Secretary of the Treasury; and 3,724 still pending.

Those pending at the commencement of the year 714 were decided in favor of the United States, 103 were decided adversely, 963 were settled and dismissed, and in 5 penalties were remitted by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The whole number of suits decided or otherwise disposed of during the year was 4,034; the whole amount for which judgments were obtained, exclusive of decrees in rem, was $448,735.63, and the entire amount collected from all sources was $284,046.21.

The number of cases in which offers of compromise were pending and decided during the fiscal year was 96, involving the sum of $756,802.29.

EXHIBIT K.—Report of the Librarian.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,
Washington, November 1, 1890.

SIR: The annual report in regard to the library of the Department of Justice is herewith respectfully presented.

About three thousand volumes of executive documents (this includes duplicates) have been chronologically arranged in the cases made for them a year ago. Fifteen hundred volumes more are still packed away in bags. Cases are needed for these books that they may be properly cared for and accessible for reference.

Further shelf-room for books on jurisprudence, law periodicals, and state statutes is also required. The shelves heretofore assigned are now all filled.

I respectfully ask that the attention of Congress be called to the need of increasing the appropriation for this library. The necessity for an increase has been felt for several years. The work of the Department expands steadily. The facilities for doing it thoroughly and efficiently should be proportioned to its growth. An additional appropriation of $500 I hope will be made for the ensuing year.

The purchase of books during the fiscal year has been as follows:

EXHIBIT M.—*Report of the Board of Trustees of the Reform School.*REFORM SCHOOL OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,
Washington, D. C., October 1, 1890.

SIR: As required by law, I have the honor to submit herewith the twenty-first annual report of the trustees of the Reform School of the District of Columbia.

Twenty-one years ago this school was organized, and up to and including the 30th of June last, there have been received 1,503 boys.

At the beginning of the last fiscal year there were 185 boys in the school.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, there were received 117 boys; making during the year a population of 302.

Of these boys, 15 were committed by the supreme court of the District of Columbia, 6 by the police court, 9 by United States courts outside the District of Columbia, and 32 by the president of the board of trustees.

One hundred and eleven were received upon first commitment and 6 upon second commitment.

The average age of the boys received was twelve years and eight months.

The maximum number of boys in the school during the year was 200, minimum 170; average 185.

The number of boys discharged during the year by order of the board of trustees was 98; by change of sentence by court, 4; absent without leave, 2.

Attention is respectfully invited to the report of the superintendent hereto appended for further detailed information respecting the boys and the school.

For the third consecutive year no deaths have occurred in the school; and from the date of its organization up to the present time but 9 deaths have occurred out of 1,503 boys, covering a period of nearly twenty-two years.

Comment is unnecessary upon this subject, as it speaks plainly for itself as to the care and attention the inmates receive from the superintendent, matron, and other officers in charge of the school.

For further information your attention is respectfully invited to the report of the physician, which is made a part of this report.

Great care and attention is given by the officers and physician to sanitary conditions and regulations. Every precaution being taken, the result speaks for itself; no deaths, as aforesaid, having occurred during the year, and no sickness of any amount having prevailed. Such sickness as did occur was of mild and trifling character, readily yielding to treatment.

Of the 102 boys discharged during the year, all were returned to their homes, or provided with suitable places by the superintendent; it being a primary rule of the board that no boy shall be discharged unless he has a home or suitable position provided for him.

After boys are discharged they are, as far as possible, kept in view by the superintendent, and it is with pleasure that it is noted again that the boys are at work and doing well, becoming respectable citizens; evidencing that the school has worked well for them.

At the close of the year the boys of Washington, D. C., are doing well.

way through life and providing for themselves suitable and comfortable homes.

I again invite attention to the necessity for the establishment of other industries for the purpose of teaching the boys additional and useful occupations, whereby upon leaving the school they can readily obtain for themselves honest and profitable employment.

In my last annual report it was recommended that additional mechanics be employed for this purpose, and this recommendation is earnestly and strongly reiterated.

While it may be true that the work of the boys in these callings may not be remunerative to the school, it must be said that a Reform School is not intended to be a success financially, but is intended to provide means of enabling its inmates to support themselves after leaving it, and the only way in which this can be done is to provide them with a suitable education and with trades; but without necessary funds for this purpose it is needless to say it can not be done.

In the estimates of appropriations needed for the ensuing fiscal year additional foremen of workshops are asked for, and we hope and believe that Congress in its liberality will grant this modest request when it considers the great importance of the good to be accomplished.

Estimates of appropriations for the next fiscal year have been submitted to you and the honorable Commissioners of the District of Columbia, as follows:

For salaries:

One superintendent	$1,800
One assistant superintendent	1,000
Six teachers and assistant teachers	4,050
One matron of school	600
Three matrons of families, each $180	540
Three foremen of workshops	1,980
One farmer	480
One engineer	396
One assistant engineer	300
One baker, one cook, one shoemaker, and one tailor, $300 each	1,200
Two dining-room servants, one seamstress, and one chambermaid, $144 each	576
One laundress	180
One florist	400
Watchmen, not exceeding six in number	1,440
Secretary and treasurer, board of trustees	600
In all	15,542

For support of inmates, including groceries, flour, feed, meat, dry-goods, leather and shoes, gas, fuel, hardware, tableware, furniture, farm implements, and seeds, harness and repairs to same, fertilizers, books, stationery, plumbing, painting and glazing, medicine, medical attendance, stock, fencing, repairs to buildings, and other necessary items, including compensation, not exceeding $1,000, for additional labor or services, and for transportation and other necessary expenses incidental to securing suitable homes for discharged boys, not exceeding $500, all under control of the Commissioners, $26,000.

For buildings and improvements:

Permanent boiler house, of brick	$2,500
One 100-horse-power boiler for steam heating and connections	1,500
Steam-fitting and steam pipes to old family building, radiators and connections	1,500
Two brick water-closets for use of main building and a family building ..	2,000
In all	7,500

It will be observed that the salaries of the superintendent and assistant superintendent have been increased slightly. In justice to these officers this increase should be allowed. There are no officers of like character in similar institutions in the United States whose salaries are so inadequate as those paid these officers of our school.

The present incumbents have been connected with the school for many years and have proved themselves faithful and diligent, and are all well worthy of the small increase in their salaries asked.

The present salary of the superintendent does not equal that of a third-class clerk in one of the Executive Departments, and the salary of the assistant superintendent is about the same as is paid to a copyist in such Department.

In the Departments the hours are from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., and after office hours their responsibilities are ended; but with these officers, their hours are almost without limit, they being on duty morning, noon, and night, with cares and responsibilities never ceasing, and the increase asked for is so small, that it can not be doubted that it will readily be granted.

Even at the increased salary asked, the pay is inadequate, and still much less than the salaries paid to similar officers throughout the United States.

Additional teachers are also estimated for, this being required by the large increase in the population of the school, and the addition of a new family building.

The estimates for additional teachers were submitted for the present fiscal year, but were not allowed; in consequence of which much embarrassment has been occasioned, and it is hoped that this important item will not be overlooked.

With this exception items for salaries are about the same as heretofore asked for.

The estimates for support of inmates are the same as heretofore asked, although, as said, the population of the school is much larger than it ever was.

The estimates for buildings and improvements were submitted at the last session of Congress, but no action was taken upon them.

The estimates for the permanent boiler house, is absolutely required for the protection of the Government property.

The boilers, and machinery attached, are now exposed to the weather, being covered only by a temporary and dilapidated wooden shed, which is falling to pieces; and if some means are not taken for the protection of this property, the damage which will ensue will be greater by far than the amount now asked for its care and preservation.

Another boiler is necessary for the purpose of heating the old family building; and also as an auxiliary boiler. The present heating apparatus for this building is entirely worn out, and it is difficult to see how it can be made to serve its purpose during the coming winter.

It is old, having been in the building for many years, and it would cost more to repair it than to put in the new apparatus. The amount asked is small, considering its great importance.

In addition to the boiler the necessary steam pipes and fittings are required.

The whole expenditure, for boiler and fixtures, is but $3,000—a very small sum considering the purposes for which it is needed.

Two thousand dollars is required for water-closets for the main and old family buildings.

The present premises used for this purpose are old and dilapidated, besides being unsightly, unhealthy, and disreputable in appearance.

With this small expenditure for this purpose, proper provision can be made.

These are all the appropriations asked for from Congress at its coming session, which are most moderate, and nothing is asked except that which is absolutely required for the health, convenience, and comfort of the boys and officers of the school and the preservation of the property.

For the service of the last fiscal year there was appropriated as follows:

Appropriation for salaries.....	$12,596.00
Balance unexpended	70.94
Appropriation for support	26,000.00
Balance unexpended.....	142.84
Appropriation for construction of coal vaults.....	1,000.00
Balance unexpended	2.20
Appropriation for improvement of grounds	300.00
Balance unexpended	1.20
Total balances unexpended	217.18

The superintendent paid over to the treasurer during the last fiscal year the sum of $2,317.13, derived from the industries of the school and other sources, which was turned into the Treasury of the United States, one-half to the credit of the District of Columbia and the other to the credit of the Government.

Attention is respectfully invited, for further details of the finances of the school, to the report of the treasurer herewith submitted :

Some time since, as far as possible, the larger boys were separated from the smaller, which plan has worked most admirably.

Besides keeping the smaller boys from the influence of the larger, it divides the school into more families and it is of the greatest importance in work of this character to keep each family's number as small as possible.

Our families now average about fifty boys each. Even this number is too great, but with our limited facilities better can not be done.

Should Congress in the future, in its liberality, grant us another family building, then the number of boys in each family can be decreased and the number of families enlarged.

This of course would entail additional expenditures. But no appropriation is at present asked for this purpose ; but in all probability such application will have to be made at an early date, as the school is already overcrowded, and if its population is to be enlarged additional facilities must be provided.

Complaint is now made by the judicial authorities of the District of the want of room in the school, and the courts are compelled to sentence boys of a tender age to the workhouse or common jail for the lack of means of receiving them in the school. No worse use can be made of a boy than to send him to either of such places.

A month, or even a few days, associated with hardened criminals makes a boy almost as bad as his associates and fits him to follow the evil example set him by his companions.

It has often been my duty to visit such places, and it has pained me to see little boys in a group of criminals, in the garb of the workhouse, working side by side on the grounds or elsewhere with hardened and depraved men.

It is true it costs something more to send a boy to the Reform School, but in the end, laying aside everything else, it is cheaper to prevent crime than to punish it.

The question is sometimes asked whether reform schools reform. After an experience of eighteen years as one of the trustees of the school and its president for nearly ten years, and after careful and close observation, I am justified in saying that they do.

Statistics will show that at least and probably more than 75 per cent. of the boys who go away from the school turn out upright, honorable, reputable, law-abiding citizens.

Some may think this proportion exaggerated, but I repeat I know whereof I speak.

Owing to the drought during the early summer the farm crops were much damaged and the yields will not be what we had hoped of them. Sufficient crops, however, were gathered for the needs of the school.

The farm, greenhouses, and grounds are now in better condition than they ever were before, and the whole place has the appearance of being well kept and well farmed, and is in first-class condition.

Attention is again invited to the necessity for some legislation giving the trustees the power to recall a boy during his minority. This power, I understand, is lodged in the hands of almost every similar institution throughout the United States and works well.

A bill for this purpose was introduced at a previous session of Congress which passed the House.

It is earnestly asked that the attention of Congress be again called to this important matter.

With one of two exceptions there have been no changes in the employés of the school during the last fiscal year.

Faithfully and well have they discharged their difficult and onerous duties. Onerous and difficult they are. No one not having a thorough knowledge of the workings of a reform school can have an idea of the work, care and responsibility imposed upon its officers; and the board with great pleasure commends all at the school for their zeal and diligence.

Very respectfully,

A. J. FALLS,
President of the Board.

HON. ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

Report of the Superintendent.

REFORM SCHOOL OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The superintendent has received from various sources and turned the same over to Samuel W. Curriden, treasurer of the school, who has covered the same into the United States Treasury to the credit of the United States and the District of Columbia, jointly, as follows, viz :

Cash received from paper-box manufactory	$1,000.00
Cash received from sales of farm products	519.49
Cash received from greenhouses	603.72
Cash received from miscellaneous sources	193.92

Total 2,317.13

In closing another year of active school work I follow in the wake of precedents already established by noting a few of the more important events gathered from its records. It will be in place also to state some prominent facts and make suggestions concerning the necessary wants of the school for the coming fiscal year.

Our population is rapidly increasing in numbers and should this so continue through the year it will become necessary to provide additional room and materially enlarge our means of properly educating and caring for the same. By comparison with other localities we find the number of our juvenile delinquents quite below the general average, and the cost of maintaining our numerous reformatory and charitable institutions is much less in the aggregate when compared relatively with the census populations in the older States. The city of Boston, for example, expends annually over half a million of dollars in the admirable care she takes of the indigent and unfortunate of both sexes, while the State of Massachusetts makes still larger provision for the maintenance of her many model institutions, including reformatory and industrial schools for both girls and boys. The same also may be spoken concerning a favored few of our leading District charities, which have been established upon a broad and permanent basis, and receive annually the full measure of their estimated wants.

These facts, however, do not apply to this institution, and hence we beg to be heard in our earnest plea for more generous legislation, believing that all the claims made and presented in your present annual report to the honorables the Attorney-General and the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, are both just and reasonable. We believe also that the objects and aims of the institution are as worthy of recognition as any other, and the work contemplated by its founders is as far-reaching in its possibilities for good. Further than this, we have the most encouraging assurances that it has fully accomplished its mission in proportion to the means annually provided, and that in like measure it is to-day still advancing its good work along the same lines of benevolent action. These statements can not be controverted, as the proofs are numbered by scores of ready witnesses, and all bearing a living testimony to the truth of the claims thus presented.

For example, and as one among many others of like character, I transcribe a paragraph or two from a letter recently received. Over four years ago the writer was committed to the school for a serious misdemeanor. He was well advanced in his studies for a boy of sixteen, and coming directly from a comfortable home, he naturally enough chafed for a time under the restraints of the new discipline imposed. Manual labor especially seemed odious and burdensome, but was accepted later on with better grace, under the conditions that his final and honorable discharge would depend largely upon himself. By promotions and advancement under the rules, his "honor badge" was secured months in advance of the average time, and he was sent to accept a position of trust among friends in a distant city. Further than this he will speak for himself:

MARCH 15, 1890.

DEAR MRS. SHALLENBERGER:

I have no excuse for not writing you more promptly, except that I am now very busy at night with my books. But I must tell you something that will no doubt be a surprise. I am now preparing myself by a course of study for the Episcopal ministry. You know the extent of my wrongdoing, but you will not believe that at any time I was altogether bad. I have seen more trouble than most young persons of my age, and have experienced within the past few years what it takes many others a lifetime to find out. I have fully determined, however, to amend as far as possible my own wrongdoing by trying to aid others to live a purer and better life.

Very sincerely, your friend,

Since my last annual report was made ninety-eight boys have received their honorable discharge, and we have unquestioned evidence concerning most of them, both as to their present and prospective success in social and civil life. Many of them report in person or through their immediate friends, while others write their own story, as in the case just cited. Another model letter has reached me within a day or two. After the usual introduction, it goes on to say:

This is my birthday and I am now sixteen years of age. I can never forget your treatment of me, as it was far better than I deserved; indeed, I often wonder how you could tolerate me at all. But, thank God, I believe there is a better life before me now.

These are the words of an unusually bright and intelligent boy, who at the early age of twelve years deserted an excellent home in a neighboring city, and, not caring to identify himself, was committed to us as a common vagrant by authority of the district court. Over two years ago the home circle was again made complete by his honorable discharge and return to his parents, where he has been ever since, and is to-day faithfully assisting his father in a respectable and profitable business. Facts are stubborn things, and comment is unnecessary, as this boy

Another year of active school work I follow in the wake of the already established by noting a few of the more important items derived from its records. It will be in place also to state some facts and make suggestions concerning the necessary wants of the school for the coming fiscal year.

The population is rapidly increasing in numbers and should this so through the year it will become necessary to provide additional material, enlarge our means of properly educating and caring for the same. By comparison with other localities we find the number of our juvenile delinquents quite below the general average, and the cost of maintaining our numerous reformatory and charitable institutions is much less in this aggregate when compared relatively with the dense populations in the older States. The city of Boston, for example, expends annually over half a million of dollars in the admirable maintenance of the indigent and unfortunate of both sexes, while the city of Albany has made a still larger provision for the maintenance of her many charitable institutions, including reformatory and industrial schools for both the girl and boy. The same also may be spoken concerning a few of our leading District charities, which have been established upon a fixed and permanent basis, and receive an amount in excess of their estimated wants.

It is not applicable to this institution, and hence we cannot expect for more generous legislation, besupporting charity, by giving back to the State a large proportionate number of worthy, law-abiding citizens, taxpayers instead of tax consumers; and all contributing the results of their influence and industries to the common weal. No longer aliens and enemies, they must soon become an integral part of the social world to which they have been restored, and in which they have been prepared to act an honorable part.

Coming within the legitimate scope of such special legislation, we have a large number of boys who are entirely capable of attaining higher grades both in the schoolroom and workshop. We are not prepared however to advance them for want of means to provide additional teachers and skilled mechanical instructors, together with the tools and materials necessary to meet such an emergency. With a population much larger than ever before, no increase has been asked for ordinary subsistence supplies. Our failure to secure former estimates for permanent additions and improvements has made it necessary to repeat such claims in detail, in the hope of receiving more favorable recognition at the hands of the Congress during its coming session.

We therefore respectfully name these wants again in the order of their relative importance, as follows, viz: One new steel boiler to enlarge and complete steam plant for heating the several buildings. Radiators and steam-pipe connections to heat "A" family building and thus replace old furnaces unfit for further use. A new boiler house of brick and stone of sufficient capacity to enclose and shelter steam plant now only temporarily provided for. Two outside water-closets of brick with required extension of sewerage. Repairs to main and other buildings, together with means to fence, drain, and properly improve the farm and school grounds.

Our regular school sessions have been conducted without material change from former years, nor has there been any marked variance in the division of time regulating the daily routine of each succeeding day. Work and study, sleep and recreation, have alternated in their regular order, the hours for each duly arranged and their duration lengthened or shortened as occasion required. These would seem to be the four cardinal points indicating a reasonable adjustment of time in its application to the demands of ordinary child life.

The school session in its daily routine is perhaps the best "touchstone" by which a boy's true inwardness is revealed and his possible chances for a worthy manhood determined with any degree of certainty. The experienced teacher, in his personal contact with the best and worst phases of undeveloped character as presented to him in the persons of fifty or more specimens of youthful waywardness, widely differing in age and social antecedents, as also in mental and moral development, has certainly a wide field open before him for the exercise of his patience and ability as an instructor, both in letters and ethics.

The condition of the farm and all that pertains to this important department is in advance of any preceding year. The aggregate production has been materially increased and the grounds improved in many ways. Our field crops have not, perhaps, equalled the general average, but garden vegetables of various kinds and of excellent quality have been successfully cultivated, while table-corn, sweet potatoes, melons, canteloupes, and berries of unusual size and of the finest varieties have been produced in abundance, and all freely used in their season as subsistence supplies or sold in the city markets when there was a surplus to be disposed of.

Many of our older boys continue to assist in the work of cultivating and harvesting these wholesome food products, of which they are also the largest proportionate consumers. When not thus employed they are kept busy during a part of each working day at some kind of useful and necessary labor, and, as a consequence the improved condition and more sightly appearance of the farm and school grounds is everywhere apparent.

Our paper-box industry has been slowly but surely expanding and growing in importance until it has finally superseded that of chair-caning, which for so many years had monopolized the working hours of all the younger boys. The results of the past year alone give evidence of your business foresight in establishing this new and better class of labor in our shops, as it not only serves to keep the hands busy, but is a means also of instructing many otherwise idle boys in a higher grade of mechanical labor. It is already producing a very creditable income, and will no doubt continue to enlarge in this direction, under careful management and from the advantages derived from increased experience. Financial success must always be considered a very commendable feature in any honorable business enterprise. It should never be extolled, however, as the chief good in its application to the employment of minors. This large element in our population can not safely be classed as wage-earners, not at least until they have been taught some useful trade, or have received such mental training as will fit them for earning a competency when discharged from the school.

In all other departments there has been the same uniform assistance rendered by a large number of boys constantly employed under competent instructors. The tailor and shoemaker, each aided by such detailed help as may be required, makes and keeps in repair the large amount of clothing used throughout the year, while the baker and cook, assisted by an equal number, trained in their separate and special callings, are ever busy in their efforts to prepare the necessary daily subsistence supplies. A large amount of domestic labor of various kinds is also performed by boys under the immediate supervision of experienced housekeepers, and there is no day within the year in which these busy workers are entirely relieved from duty.

Our several holidays, including Christmas, Fourth of July, and Thanksgiving, were duly observed and celebrated in their regular order, the former taking its usual place as the acknowledged favorite among them all. "Santa Claus" still reigns supreme over our strictly juvenile population, and no effort is made to break or mar this innocent illusion, or in any way discourage the exercise of "sports like these that satisfy the child." The day brought its full round of enjoyment, together with a bountiful supply of roast turkey, vegetables, cakes, pies, confections, nuts, etc., all of which were summarily disposed of, and without causing any "serious disturbances," internal or otherwise.

In addition to those legally appointed, a fixed portion of every Saturday afternoon is observed as a school holiday throughout the year. Occasionally, and as a special recognition of faithful service rendered during the week, an entire afternoon is spent in out-door recreations. Thus our boys are assisted and encouraged both in their work and play, believing that as a means of rational development, the one is just as essential as the other. The boy who does not thoroughly enjoy his hour for play is naturally either morose or selfish, or what is relatively worse, constitutionally lazy. Little good can ever come out of such a youthful "Nazareth" and reformation must commence at the lazy end of such a bad habit. Reformation never can be realized.

Our annual entertainment as given by the boys was held at the institution Friday evening, March 7, and was in many respects the best and brightest of its kind. Much interest is manifested by our school authorities in these now popular exhibitions, which never fail to bring together, once a year, a large and appreciative audience. On this occasion, as usual, the boys acquitted themselves handsomely, and their success in every part of the programme was evidenced by the very cordial reception given to each. The exercises were all new and varied throughout, consisting of declamations, dialogues, minstrel and musical diversions and novelties, while at intervals, and often by request, the entire school would unite its harmonies in some familiar and popular chorus, not "named in the bond." The musical accompaniments were all under the direction of Mr. William K. Cohen, the organist and musical instructor at the school. He was ably assisted on this occasion by Dr. Deffenderfer and Mr. Chandlee, both experts in their use of the cornet.

An impartial review of the work accomplished in every separate department of the institution during the year brings its own reasonable reward in results that are not only satisfying as to the past, but full of hope and promise for the future. The general health has been uniformly good, and in this important particular the record marks a higher average than ever before. The very favorable report of the attending physician, Dr. Charles A. Wells, shows that for the third consecutive year there has been no serious epidemic prevalent, and no death among the inmates of the school.

We have to note, however, the fatal illness and death of one of our family matrons, Miss Kate Hoover, which occurred after one week of sickness, on Saturday afternoon, January 18, 1890. Miss Hoover was ever faithful and efficient in the discharge of the duties her special department imposed. In her daily life she exhibited all the virtues of a worthy Christian woman, and for her death seemed to have no terrors. During the last few days of her illness she was surrounded by friends and near relatives, who subsequently removed her remains to her former home in a distant State.

We have received more than ordinary encouragement in our work during the year from interested and influential friends and from those high in authority. We are pleased to acknowledge in this connection a personal visit from the President of the United States, with members of his family and Cabinet. This will also include, at various times, Senators and Representatives in Congress, Commissioners of the District of Columbia, delegates from foreign governments, and special committees from neighboring States. These visits have been supplemented by other good friends who reside in the city and District, or in homes widely separated from us by geographical lines, and whether made at their own instance or through invitation extended, all coming to impart, and possibly receive, information pertinent to the work in hand. It is mainly through these direct and personal interchanges of opinions, and by an honest comparison of our practical experiences, that the way is surely opened and opportunities afforded for advancement in every truly benevolent and reformatory enterprise.

With few exceptions, every Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock, religious services have been held in our chapel hall, south wing of main building, and have been conducted alternately by clergymen in charge of the numerous city and suburban church organizations. Intelligent laymen have also at times assisted officially in these acts of public worship, which are open and free to all, and in no sense denominational in their teachings or tendencies. On these occasions the exercises are always instructive and profitable, and often doubled in interest by the relation of incidents in the lives of noted personages, or of some pertinent individual experience known to the speaker, while the volume of vocal harmony, as chanted at intervals by hundreds of youthful voices in our service of song, is accepted as a fitting inspiration to all that passes within the hour.

Following these services our Catholic boys are assembled for special instructions under teachers designated by their church authorities for such purpose. Once during each month, the Rev. Father Russell, of Hyattsville, Md., is present to conduct a Sabbath morning service and administer the sacraments to boys connected with their church.

We have received from many sources valuable additions to our library of reading matter suited to the wants of our youthful readers, consisting of books, magazines, illustrated papers, and miscellaneous publications. We note specially those received monthly from the Dead Letter department of the General Post Office, which are always carefully selected by those directly in charge and often include packages of handsomely colored prints and cards. In addition to these generous contributions, we make a regular weekly distribution to the several families, of Harper's Young People, Youths' Companion, and of numerous publications by the American Sunday School Union.

We note also the receipt of papers published regularly by institutions similar to our own, and all creditable specimens of the "art preservative of all arts." These little sheets always evidence a very clever use of the editorial scissors, and often contain spicy original matter, including saws, wise and otherwise. Among them we are pleased to name: Our Companion, Cincinnati, Ohio; The Advance, Jamesburgh, N. J.; The Budget, Deer Island, Mass.; Howard Times, Sockanossett, R. I., and the School Enterprise, Lyman, Mass.

For favors, named or unnamed in these pages, manifold in number and varied in kind, the school has been placed under repeated and lasting obligations throughout the year. To the generous donors, each and all, our grateful acknowledgments are due, and hereby cordially extended.

A number of changes have been made in our official force within the year, the most important being the retirement of our former assistant superintendent, and the appointment, by the board of trustees, of Mr. I. D. Porter to the vacant position. Many years of experience as an officer and teacher in the school had eminently fitted Mr. Porter for this advancement.

The services rendered by officers and employés, generally, male and female, have been efficient and faithful, and I cheerfully make such record in justice to each, with special application to those who have so long and acceptably served the institution in the positions to which they have been appointed.

To you, gentlemen of the board of trustees, I am sincerely grateful for your continued personal and official confidence, and for wise counsel so uniformly extended in all matters pertaining to the government and welfare of the school.

We have been abundantly prospered in our work. To Him who alone can provide and prepare the means to such an end be all praise.

Respectfully submitted.

G. A. SHALLENBERGER,
Superintendent.

*Report of the physician.*REFORM SCHOOL OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,
Washington, D. C., June 30, 1890.

GENTLEMEN: I am glad to be able to report for the third consecutive year that we have had no death among the inmates of this institution.

Notwithstanding the increase in our family (averaging for the year one hundred and ninety-three boys), we have been remarkably free from contagious diseases. We had during this time several cases of diphtheria. Each case was at once isolated, and every precaution taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

Among so many inmates there are necessarily many demands on the physician, but I make it a rule to listen to all complaints, however apparently trivial, and in this way I feel that I have succeeded by prompt action in averting what, if neglected, would have proven cases of serious illness. Every effort is made to keep the buildings in a healthful and wholesome condition. A solution of copperas is daily used in each closet, which is well flushed with this disinfectant. Carbolic acid is added to the water with which the dormitories are scrubbed, and quicklime is plentifully used about the outer buildings and grounds. Entire cleanliness pervades every part of the establishment; ventilation of the buildings is rigidly required; the matron consults me with the varying seasons as to the proper change of clothing for the boys, and we use every endeavor to keep them healthy and hearty. In this connection I wish to renew my recommendation of last year as to the apparatus for heating family "A" building. The present method is irregular and unreliable. Great discomfort was felt during the past mild winter, and a really cold winter will certainly bring increased risk of illness. The boys are required to be in the schoolroom a portion of the day and if this is insufficiently and unsatisfactorily heated, it increases the danger, especially of pulmonary complaints. I therefore earnestly urge such a change as seems to me to be actually necessary for the comfort and health of the boys. I am glad to be able to say that I have the cordial and cheerful support of every one connected with this school, in matters pertaining to my department.

Very respectfully,

CHAS. A. WELLS, M. D.,
Attending Physician.

The BOARD OF TRUSTEES,
REFORM SCHOOL, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

EXHIBIT N.—*Report of the warden of the jail in the District of Columbia.*WARDEN'S OFFICE, UNITED STATES JAIL,
Washington, D. C., November 1, 1890.

SIR: It is my duty for the first time to give an account of the affairs committed to my charge as warden of the United States jail, in the District of Columbia.

As my official term did not begin until October 7, 1890, this report for the year ended October 31, 1890, must be made largely from the jail records, and only in a small degree from my personal knowledge of its affairs. I have, however, made a complete and careful inspection of the jail, its records and books, and have studied the methods governing the management of the institution in all its divisions. I am pleased to be able to say that the records have been both neatly and accurately preserved, and all papers seem to be carefully filed and convenient for ready reference.

I find the discipline among the prisoners excellent, and believe that the rules and regulations have been rigorously enforced, to which this condition is chiefly due. It is also apparent that the enforcement of discipline has been aided by the law called by the inmates the "good time law," which provides for shortening the terms of imprisonments by good behavior. While the law adds somewhat to the duties of the office, I am sure that compensation is found in the lessening necessity for resorting to punishment in order to maintain strict discipline and good order.

The accompanying report of Dr. Alexander McWilliams, the jail physician, points briefly to one matter of vital importance, viz, the removal from the jail grounds of the frame building used at times by the District as a smallpox hospital. Because of the imminent danger that might assail not only the jail but the entire city should the loathsome disease appear and this building be used as a pesthouse, I have addressed a letter to the honorable Commissioners, urging its immediate removal. With this exception the sanitary condition of the jail and the health of its inmates are good, a result largely owing, no doubt, to the excellent methods of my predecessor, Gen. John S. Crocker, whose long service, large experience, and proved results will be my justification for their continuance as I see and understand them.

Your attention is also called to the report of the inspector of steam boilers, herewith appended. I find by reference to the report of Warden Crocker for 1889 that the conditions then were bad enough; they are, in the nature of things, worse at this time, one year later. The report of the inspector speaks loudly against both the safety and efficiency of the steam service of the jail. I ask that the necessary provision be made to meet the requirements pointed out by the report.

I call attention to the absolute necessity for two new washing machines and three new wringers to take the places of the same number now almost useless and beyond repair. I ask authority to put these machines up in that part of the institution indicated by the late warden in his last report, and for the reasons therein given.

A new barn or stable is also demanded as the present one is fast going to decay, being already beyond repair from an economic standpoint. The other outbuildings, fences, and the jail and the grounds are in good condition.

Most of the labor connected with repairs as well as of making iron cots for prisoners, painting, glazing and the like has been done by the engineer with the aid of prisoners. Indeed, prison labor, under the immediate supervision of a competent official, has been utilized for all the needs of the institution wherever practicable; skilled mechanics have rarely been employed for any purpose.

The supplies have been of good quality and judiciously issued. Inmates have been furnished with a good wholesome diet, consisting of wheat and corn bread, bacon, fresh and salt beef, fish and vegetables, with suitable changes during each week. The meals have been well prepared and served as directed by the deputy warden at regular hours. Prisoners destitute of necessary clothing have been supplied and made comfortable and fit to be seen.

The good health spoken of has prevailed during the year, as well as the discipline, and no serious disturbance has occurred.

Various statistics concerning numbers of prisoners reaching and leaving the jail during the year, and showing sex, color, nativity and domestic condition (married or single), are submitted; and there follows a table showing the nature and extent of the expenses of the jail for the year closing with October 31, 1890.

J. B. BURKE,
Warden.

Hon. W. H. H. MILLER.
Attorney-General.

procure from the supply that is used in the city. The food of the prisoners is excellent, and I have no complaints as to quality or quantity. The prison is sadly in need of hospital accommodations for the few cases of illness which may occur. With the necessary hospital furniture and clothing, we now use the large hospital room, which has hitherto been rendered useless from the want of a guard to prevent escape. That objection is now removed, and with little additional expense we can add much to the care and comfort of the sick.

I must now call your attention to the dangerous proximity of the smallpox hospital to the prison. I dread the introduction of a case of smallpox into the hospital, for in such a case it would immediately make its entry into the jail. Since that building has been in its present location the disease has been introduced into the jail, and its spread was only prevented by the most rigid isolation and the vaccination of every prisoner. So great is the risk of contagion that one man suffering with the confluent smallpox left his bed during the absence of his nurse and was found at midnight in the vestibule of the jail. The removal of the building would be attended with great risk of spreading the contagion, and I can see but one remedy for the evil, and that is its total destruction, which can be done with perfect safety if proper precautions be taken.

To yourself and the officers in general my thanks are due for the assistance and courtesy I have received at your hands.

Yours, respectfully,

A. M. WILLIAMS,
Physician, United States Jail.

Maj. J. B. BURKE,
Warden, United States Jail.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 29, 1890.

DEAR SIR: I have the honor to state that I have inspected the steam boilers in United States jail, and find the horizontal tubular boilers in poor condition, and I also find it necessary to condemn vertical tubular boiler used for laundry and cooking purposes, as it is not worth repairing.

I would most respectfully recommend that a new locomotive form boiler of a larger capacity be put in its place.

I would also recommend that new tubes be put in all the horizontal tubular boilers, and new fire sheets be put on boilers where necessary; the boilers should also be reset, as I find the brickwork very bad.

The new boiler and all work necessary to be done to put the plant in a first-class condition will cost between $4,000 and $5,000.

This work is actually necessary and should be done the coming summer, as the boilers will not be sufficient to run another season without repairs being made.

Respectfully submitted.

J. H. WILKERSON,
Steam Boiler Inspector, District of Columbia,
220 Seventh street southeast.

Maj. JEROME B. BURKE,
Warden, United States Jail.

EXHIBIT O.—Report of the Architect of the Capitol.

ARCHITECT'S OFFICE, UNITED STATES CAPITOL,
Washington, D. C., October 10, 1890.

SIR: I have the honor to report that during the last fiscal year various improvements and repairs have been made to the courthouse in this city.

Iron gratings, with doors, have been placed in the prisoners' corridors, for greater security, and the toilet rooms to the courts have been improved by the use of flushing-tanks, with an increased supply of water.

Minor repairs have been made to the interior of the building; considerable painting has been done to the same, and to the roof. The exterior of the building still remains in an unsightly condition, for the want of painting and other repairs which are required for the preservation of the porous sandstone, of which the old portion of the building is largely constructed. The estimated cost of this improvement is $2,500.

I have the honor to be, your obedient servant,

EDWARD CLARK,
Architect United States Capitol.

Hon. W. H. H. MILLER,
Attorney-General, Washington, D. C.

EXHIBIT P.—Report of the clerk of pardons.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,
Washington, D. C., October 17, 1890.

SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith a list of the persons convicted in the United States courts who were pardoned, or whose sentences were commuted, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, together with a tabular statement showing the circuits or districts in which they were tried, their offenses, the date of conviction, sentence, when they were pardoned or when their sentences were commuted, and the principal reasons therefor.

Very respectfully,

C. F. SCOTT,
Clerk of Pardons.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

EXHIBIT Q.—Report of the attorney of the United States for the district of Utah upon the status of the Mormon Church litigation.

OFFICE OF UNITED STATES ATTORNEY FOR UTAH,
Salt Lake City, October 27, 1890.

SIR: In response to your request contained in your dispatch of the 22d instant I hereby submit the following statement of the so-called Mormon litigation.

On July 30, A. D. 1887, the United States by its Attorney-General filed its bill in the supreme court of the Territory against the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and certain alleged trustees and others, under the provisions of section 17 of the act of Congress of March 3, 1887.

At the same time another bill was filed against the Perpetual Emigration Fund Company and trustees, under the provisions of section 15 of the act, supra.

On November 7, 1887, the United States marshal, Frank H. Dyer, was appointed as receiver and qualified in both cases.

In the case against the Emigration Fund Company, no moneys and very little property are reported as coming into the hands of the receiver. On January 9, 1888, he made a report showing the property coming into his hands to consist of an office safe, desk, books of account, and a number of promissory notes. Of these last those not barred by the statute of limitations aggregate in face value, as reported, the sum of $3,171.46. No real or estimated value is given.

On February 15, 1888, the only other report made by the receiver was filed, and shows the receipt by him of 131 $\frac{1}{2}$ shares of Parowan Co-operation Stock Raising Company, par value \$1 per share. The real or estimated value not given. The expenses of the receiver are stated at \$72 and vouchers exhibited. As no further attention has been paid by the receiver or the court to this case I assume that there were practically no assets, and its consideration may be dismissed.

For your information I may add that, as I understand it, the Emigration Fund Company was accustomed to advance to emigrants money for passage and expenses, taking notes, etc., for the repayment. The notes mentioned in the receiver's report are doubtless of this class, and the debtors being probably poor persons and widely scattered throughout the Territory it was conceived impracticable to attempt collection.

But to resume the history of the main case. On October 8, 1888, the receiver having gathered and reduced to possession personal and real property, the solicitors for the United States and the defendants agreed in writing to certain facts, among other things specifying certain personal and real property then in the possession of the receiver, and stating the time and manner of its acquisition by the defendant, the late corporation, and also setting out fully the alleged titles and claims of the other defendants to certain portions and parcels of said property.

This statement also sets forth that block 87, plat "A," Salt Lake City survey, known as the "Temple Block," since 1848 had been used "exclusively for the purpose of the worship of God according to the doctrines and tenets of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints." Afterwards, on the 8th day of October, 1888, findings and decree were entered in pursuance of the said agreed statement, and subsequently an appeal was taken and the cause determined in the Supreme Court of the United States. This decree you have in the record on appeal, and it is unnecessary to further allude to it except to direct attention to the fact that it sets apart the entire "Temple Block," 10 acres in all, to the defendant church as property excepted in the act of Congress, and to the question of its finality.

In the mean time the United States had filed informations in the district court for the third district, to escheat or forfeit certain of the realty specified in the decree, as follows, to wit:

October 8, 1888, against property generally known as the tithing yard and office. File No. 7503.

No. 7504, against 1,060 acres, and one undivided half of 100 acres, all known as the "church farm."

No. 7505, against property generally known as "Gardo House" and "historian's office."

Monition to claimants was issued, published, recorded, and filed.

On December 6, 1888, and before the return day, certain claimants appeared specially and noticed motions to dismiss the several proceedings on various grounds, including the alleged want of jurisdiction. These motions were not brought on until September 10, 1890, when they were overruled.

Subsequently, in two of the cases, certain claimants to the property appeared and set up their claims. It is expected that claimants in the third case will shortly appear. Time has been given the United States in which to file complaints or informations against the property and the respective claimants until December 16, 1890. The defenses in these cases, as evidenced by the claims already filed, are:

In No. 7505 (Gardo House and historian's office), that the real estate was occupied as a parsonage or house for the president of the church, and was so connected with church property, which was used exclusively for the worship of God, as to be exempt, etc.

In No. 7503 (tithing yard, etc.), that the church as a "voluntary association" owned the property prior to the exactment of July 1, 1862.

In both cases it is averred that the church is an association for religious and charitable uses and purposes, and has the right to hold such property, through trustees, to be used for such purposes, and in both the limitations prescribed by section 1047 of the Revised Statutes is relied on. I am informed the same matters substantially will be relied on in case No. 7504 (church, farm, and coal lands).

The manner and time of the acquisition of this property by the church is set out in the findings and decree, a record of which you have, and you are referred thereto for further information as to the sufficiency of these defenses.

You will observe that the next step to be taken in these proceedings will be the filing of complaints or informations against the property and the claimants by the Attorney-General, and that the same should be done before December 16.

The values of these parcels of realty are stated in the decree, but property has very greatly appreciated since.

The receiver brought actions in the first district court at Ogden to recover the possession of certain realty, as follows:

No. 1630, against David M. Stewart et al., to recover a parcel about 20 rods square in block 18, plat A, Ogden City, known as the tithing yard.

No. 1672, against R. J. Taylor and Lewis W. Shurtliff, to recover lots 8 and 9 in block 8, plat B, Ogden City, being 2 acres of land, known as "Tabernacle grounds."

No. 1671, against Robert M. Quarris and the Church Association of Weber Stake of Zion, to recover the greater part of block 46, plat A, Ogden City, known as the Shurtliff residence.

The city of Ogden has intervened in cases Nos. 1630 and 1671, claiming title in the first as a bona fide purchaser, and in the second by dedication to public use.

The property involved in the three cases is estimated to be worth in the aggregate over $250,000. The opinion of counsel for the present receiver, John A. Marshall, esq., is that the city has no claim; that the receiver will probably recover in case No. 1672. No opinion expressed to No. 1671. These cases are at issue, and, I am informed, will be pressed for trial by the receiver.

I should here state, perhaps, that the counsel for the church claim (and have so testified in a hearing upon a reference of the former receiver's accounts and acts) that there was an agreement between the former district attorney and the former Solicitor-General and themselves that these actions in the first district court should be dismissed and that this was in part an inducement to the church solicitors to sign the statement of facts before referred to. Mr. Williams, the attorney for the former receiver, emphatically disclaims any knowledge of such agreement, and I am informed by Mr. Marshall that the former district attorney has written him to the same effect. However, an application to file amended answers setting up the decree of the Supreme Court as final and a bar and this alleged oral agreement as a bar has been denied.

There is a suit pending in the third district court against the receiver in which Mary R. Iliff, as complainant, brought to quiet title to a part of lot 4, block 39, plat B, Salt Lake City survey. This suit will not be defended, as the receiver makes no real claim.

On the 13th day of July, 1890, the court directed the receiver to make a full report of his doings, and appointed J. B. Rosborough, esq., as special examiner to examine and report thereon.

On July 5 the receiver filed his report, and objection having been made by the receiver to Mr. Rosborough, on the 15th of July Marshal N. Stone, esq., was appointed.

The examiner proceeded to take testimony, and after a full and prolonged examination filed his findings and report. I inclose copy of the orders of reference and copy of the report of the examiner, which you will observe present also the findings proposed by the United States. In due time I shall file exceptions to such part of the report and refusal to find as I deem necessary. In the mean time, on the 16th of July, the receiver resigned and his resignation was accepted with the usual reservation, and Henry W. Lawrence appointed, who immediately qualified by giving bond in the sum of $300,000.

The receiver has sold the sheep in his possession by order of the court, and the personal property in his possession October 1 and the value thereof may be stated as follows:

4,732 shares of Deseret Telegraph Stock, (no present value.)
800 shares city gas stock, par value $100	$80,000.00
Cash on hand in various banks	291,812.83
Credits due on sheep	10,000.00
Total	381,812.83

The rents of the realty in his possession hereinbefore mentioned amount to $1,000 monthly. In the final report of the former receiver mention is made of certain parcels of realty in Nebraska, and the opinion ventured that steps should be taken to recover the same, its value being stated at $25,000 or $35,000. The present receiver submitted the abstracts of title to Mr. J. F. Gardner, of Omaha, recommended as a lawyer of repute and standing, who returned his opinion adverse to the claim of the receiver and the United States. I have examined his opinion and fully concur with him in the conclusions reached.

The abstracts and opinion will be forwarded to you for your investigation should you deem it necessary. The foregoing will, I think, sufficiently advise you of the condition of affairs. It only remains for me to specially direct your attention to some matters which seem to me to be of pressing moment.

By reference to paragraph 4 of the examiner's report you will ascertain that up to July 15, 1890, the expenses of the administration amounted to $54,924.86, about 17 per cent. of the sum realized. The court has heretofore approved every expenditure and that is the end of it. But it would seem desirable to close this business, and as soon as possible, as it seems to me that a receiver is too expensive a luxury for the fund.

In this connection would it not be prudent to determine at once the effect of the decree, and whether the receiver can proceed to take possession of other property should any be discovered? If the decree is final in this regard there is no use in keeping a receiver and his counsel as an annex to the fund. The cases against the realty can be pressed and determined and the fund can be paid into the registry of the court, there to remain until Congress provides for it.

Moreover, in my judgment no other personality will ever be discovered. Further, can the Attorney-General proceed, under section 13 of the act of 1887, to institute proceedings to forfeit and escheat other realty (if any) subject to be escheated, and if so, would it be best to investigate the temple properties and titles at Manti and St. George?

Findings numbers 14 and 15 proposed by the United States (see inclosed report) sufficiently explain my views in this connection.

There are several parcels of realty which the present receiver is convinced was the property of the church. The proof, of necessity, must be made by hostile witnesses who have a real personal interest in defeating the Government.

The determination of these matters will of necessity be expensive and the result uncertain.

Since the foregoing was written I have filed exceptions to the examiner's report, and inclose a copy herewith.

Very respectfully,

CHAS. S. VARIAN,
United States Attorney.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
Washington, D. C.
